THIS new and commodious house, located corner of Broadway and 42d Street, possesses advantages over all other houses for the accommodation of its guests. One of Atwood's Patent Elevators is also among the 'modern improvements' and at the service of guests at all hours.

The Broadway and University Place Cars pass the door every four minutes, running from the City Hall to Central Park, while the Sixth and Seventh Avenue Lines are but a short block on either side, affording ample facilities for communicating with all the Depots, Steamboat Landings, places of Amusement and Business of the great metropolis.

'Done!' said the wagoner, 'come here.' And, going to the back of the wagon, he called out, 'Wake up Jake, and put your head out here.'

The Georgian, burning with curiosity, leaned forward, as the cover was raised slowly up. Suddenly his eyes fell upon a physiognomy so awfully, boundlessly, overpoweringly ugly, that it seemed to be formed out of the double extract of delirium tremens.

The horse snorted, and starting back in fright threw his rider over his head, but the latter had scarcely touched the ground before he was mounted again. Throwing down the ten dollars and his penknife, without saying a work, he 'struck a bee line' for the Savannah, looking alternately over each shoulder, as long as the wagon remained in sight.

A darkey in Natchez, Miss., was boasting to a grocer of the cheapness of ten pounds of sugar he had bought at a rival store. "Let me weigh the package," said the grocer. The darkey assented, and it was found two pounds short. The colored gent looked perplexed for a moment, and then said, "Guess he didn't cheat dis chile much, for while he was gettin de sugar, I stole two pair of shoes."

A DISAPPOINTED author, indulging in a vein of abuse against a successful rival, exclaimed—"He is without exception, the most superficial, self-sufficient, ignorant, shallow creature that ever made any pretensions to literature." "Gently, my dear sir," interrupted a gentleman, "you have quite forgot yourself."

"POMPEY," said a good-natured gentleman to his colored man, "I did not know till to-day, you had been whipped last week."

"Didn't you massa?" replied Pompey, "I know'd it at the time."

MISTAKE.—To suppose a clock strikes with its hands.

DIDN'T WANT TO BE INSULTED.

A few days ago a recently married couple from the country—not Quindaro—spent a portion of that romantic season denominated the "honey-moon," in our burg, and, of course, put up and enjoyed the hospitalities of the Garno House. During dinner, the young lady was observed to turn red and pale by turns, but this was laid to her new position as wife. But Scroggs, who has a sharp ear, heard her ask her husband:

"Is my face dirty?"

"Dirty! No, why do you ask?"

"Because that insulting waiter insists on putting a towel beside my plate. "I've thrown three under the table, and yet every time he comes around he puts another before me."

Although the "flush times" have passed away on the Mississippi, they still have some queer and sometimes rough customers on the river boats.—On a recent trip of the High flyer, crowded with passengers, the clerk had allotted the last stateroom, and was about to close his office, when he was astonished by the apparition of a tall Missourian, who exclaimed, "I say, stranger, I want one of them chambers." "Sorry, sir," said the official, bladly, "but our staterooms are all taken." "The d—l they are," responded Missouri; "I've paid my fare 'n I want one of them chambers." "Allow me to see you ticket," said the still polite clerk. Putting his hand to the back of his neck, the passenger pulled out a ten-inch bowie knife, and, driving it quivering into the counter, said, "I'm from Pike county, young feller, and thar's my ticket. I want one of them chambers." Before the steel had ceased to vibrate, the prompt clerk quietly thrust a loaded and capped six-shooter under Pike's nose, and coolly answered, "I've only got six 'chambers,' and you see they are all full." The Missourian edged out of "range," and putting up his "toothpick," ejaculated, "A full hand's good by—!" and strode off to seek such quarters as he could find.

Why is a dilapidated shoe like ancient Greece? It once had a Solon.

DON'T carry your handkerchief in your breast pocket. If you do—you take a wiper to your bosom.

A TOUCHING BALLAD.

I saw him in the lonely room,
A pacing to and fro;
His step was hurried and he paused,
From time to time in woe.

His face was buried in his hands,
The tears fell thick and fast;
'Oh! from these tortured eyes,' cried he,
'Has peace forever passed?'

I shared his pain, the poignant words
Seemed bleeding from his heart;
And so I tried with sympathy
Some solace to impart.

But he exclaimed; 'Oh! ne'er like me,
May you feel want or know ill!
I've washed my face with yallow soap,
And cannot find the towel!'

Soap suds is an excellent fertilizer of grass and grape-vines, and should not be wasted. A bit of alum in a tub of soap suds sends the dirt and soap to the bottom and leaves the water fit to use again, if carefully poured off from the sediment, which becomes a concentrated fertilizer almost as good as guano. If a lump of alum as large as the thumb-joint is thrown into four or five gallons of boiling soap suds, the scum runs over and leaves the water clean and soft and useful for washing. We have often, in ancient times, 'settled' a glass of Mississippi water, and made it look as 'clear as a bell' in a few seconds, by tying a bit of alum to a string and twirling it around under the surface of the water in the glass.

THOUGHTFUL INQUIRIES.

How much better is your farm than it was one year ago? How much better are your implements? How much more lovely have you made your home by the planting of trees and shrubs? How much have you added to the value of your property by the planting of orchard trees and the small fruits? How much better is your stock of horses, of sheep, of cattle? How much of error have you discovered in your mode of treatment of the different crops you have grown? How much have you learned from your neighbors, from your agricultural papers, from your experience in relation to your farm operations? How much have you done to aid your wife and daughters in their household duties by furnishing them with improved household utensils and the better location and arrangement of wells, cisterns, walks, wood-piles, cellars, and dairy-rooms? How much of kindness and charity have you exercised toward the needy and the helpless? How much better husband, father, brother, man, are you than you were one year ago?—Prairie Farmer.

Wheat has advanced several cents in the bushel, and, consequently flour commands higher prices.

THE UGLY FAMILY.

In one of the lower districts of the Palmetto State, there once lived a family of six or seven persons, who were known far and wide as the "Ugly Family." One of them, Jake, was so 'onspeakably' hard-favored, that it made one feel as if he had bitten a green persimmon to look at him, and when he walked through the streets, the dogs slung their tails and sneaked off, too scared to bark.

The fame of this family spread through the country, and at last reached the ears of a Georgian, who for a long time had held undisputed possession of the celebrated penknife. This individual at length determined to pay a visit to the ugly family, and endeavor to dispose of the said knife; so one morning he crossed the Savannah. About noon, he saw a wagon ahead, and rode up to inquire the whereabouts of 'the family.'

'Hello, stranger!' said he to a man walking by the side of the wagon.

'Hello, yourself!' exclaimed the wagoner, turning round, and disclosing a countenance so tremendously plain that the Georgian almost dropped from his horse.

'I say,' said he, recovering a little from his astonishment, 'are you not 'Ugly Jake' himself?'

The wagoner shook his head, and 'grinned a ghastly smile,' that made him look like the nightmare personified.

'I'll bet you ten dollars that you are the ughest man in the State,' said the Georgian.

TO EVERY FARMER AND PLANTER IN THE TWO CAROLINAS.

The CAROLINA FARMER was established in November 1868, as the organ of the farmers and planters of North and South Carolina. That it has thus far fulfilled the expectations of its friends is abundantly evidenced by the general and increasing favor with which it has been received. But the success already attained, though gratifying, is not all that they hope for and confidently anticipate. It is especially desirable to make the CAROLINA FARMER the medium through which the views of the most intelligent practical farmers of the two Carolinas may be exchanged. The advantages of such a medium are so obvious that it is not necessary to enlarge on them. Your own intelligence will suggest all that should be said on this point.

You must concede that our section of country needs an organ of this kind. We have already suffered so much from ignorance and unskilfulness in the cultivation of the soil, that it has become a duty on the part of our enlightened agriculturists to make a general and united effort for the correction of the evil. Poverty and bankruptcy have invaded the homes of our people to a sad extent, and these evils can only be averted by improving our system of Agriculture. All wealth originates in the soil, and the growth of towns and cities without a corresponding increase in agriculture, is factitious and unprofitable. We want a healthy and flourishing agriculture as the basis of our industrial system. When we obtain this, commerce will flourish, capital be accumulated, manufactures established, railroads built wherever needed and prosperity and contentment prevail. As an intelligent and patriotic citizen ask yourself whether you cannot do something towards the accomplishment of an object so noble? You may possibly think that your individual efforts in this direction can accomplish nothing worthy of note, but remember how great is the power of a free press in spreading truth and correcting error! Moreover there is a common bond of sympathy connecting those of like pursuits and a word fitly spoken will often touch many on the right cord, awaken in them thought, and stir up others to give publicity to thoughts valuable and instructive.

The subscribers therefore appeal to you as a patriot and an intelligent farmer to aid them with your pen in building up the agriculture of our section. Give to your brother agriculturists, through the columns of the CAROLINA FARMER, the benefits of your observations and reflections. So doing you will contribute to the elevation of the noble pursuit of agriculture, the prosperity of your country and the happiness of its people.

Farmers, write for your paper, and thus enable us to make the CAROLINA FARMER a journal suited to the agriculture of our section. Communications on all practical subjects pertaining to the farm are earnestly solicited. And contributors may rely on the prompt publication of their articles, as the proprietor has determined, on the first day of November next, to convert the FARMER into a Weekly Agricultural and Family Journal, and will thus be enabled to publish everything in season. No advance will be made in the present subscription price. WM. H. BERNARD, Editor and Proprietor Carolin Farmer. ROB'T. K. BRYAN, Associate Editor.

Wilmington, N. C., Aug. 1869.

THE COMMISSIONERS for building the Penitentiary have been in session in this City for several days past, Mr. G. W. Welker, one of the Board, having just returned from a tour of inspection through the principal Penitentiaries in the Northern States. Important business has been transacted at this meeting. They have employed as Architect, Major Levi T. Schofield, of Ohio, a gentleman of ability and celebrity in his profession, who is now engaged on several public buildings and State institutions and has in his employ the most accomplished draftsmen in this country of European education. Major Schofield is recommended not only for his proficiency in his profession, but also for his sterling integrity and high-toned character as a gentleman; and we think the Committee peculiarly fortunate in securing the services of such a man. The drawings, plans, &c., will be furnished at an early day.

Mr. W. J. Hicks, of this City, has been appointed Assistant Architect and Superintendent of the building. He is a gentleman well known in this community for his superior capacity as a master mechanic and builder, of undoubted probity and purity of character. This is considered an excellent appointment.

Proposals for four millions of brick are advertised for in our columns today. The outside and main walls of the building are to be built of a very fine and durable granite, found on the spot, the quarry for which is partially opened; but many of the interior walls will be built of brick. The lumber and materials are on the grounds for the erection of the stockade and temporary buildings, for the prisoners, while employed on the main building. Work will be commenced immediately upon these temporary buildings, and they will be ready for the reception of the guests of the State in about two months.

It is proposed to build the penitentiary 600 feet in length, and finish it in the best and most durable manner, with the most approved internal arrangements; and the architect estimates that the total cost will be about $500,000, not, in any event, to exceed $600,000. The gentlemen comprising the board, and the architects employed, are zealous to perform their duty for the best interests of the State, and we have no doubt that under their supervision a first class building will be erected at the lowest possible cost the State.—Standard.

ANOTHER BRUTAL MURDER IN JONES COUNTY.

M. L. Shepard Shot by three Ruffians--They are Still at Large.

Another murder was committed in Jones County Monday evening about 6 o'clock, which for barbarianism, cowardice and fiendishness is only equaled by the murder of Sheriff Colgrove at the same place a few months ago. The murdered man is M. L. Shepard, an honest and industrious hard working man. He came to this section of the country from the North several years ago, married in Chatham County and has been a resident of Jones County about four years. He was last year a Justice of the Peace, and at the time of his death was one of the County Commissioners, and also a Colonel in the militia. The circumstances of the murder are as follows:

Mr. Shepard with four colored men was at work in a saw mill, belonging to the estate of the late murdered Sheriff Colgrave. About 6 o'clock the report of three guns was heard, and those who hastened to the scene of the murder found Mr. Shepard, badly shot in the small of his back, and through his head. He lived about fifteen minutes after the firing, but was in a dying state. One of the colored men Providence Bryant, was also shot, and bably wounded in the leg. He was standing near Mr. Shepard at the time the fireing took place.

The Ku Klux approached the mill from the opposite side of the Trent river, and three of them were seen by a woman who lived near. Two appeared to be disguised, one was not disguised in any way and was a white man. As soon as they fired, which attracted her attention, they turned and run with their heads down and concealed themselves as much as possible. As yet they are all at liberty.

Words cannot express the horror, and sense of shame felt by every decent man, that such things are allowed. We say allowed, because if the sentiment of a large majority of the county was against such proceedings, they would not rest day or night till the vile wretches were brought to justice. We say plainly that such actions are a reflection on the county, and its citizens. Why is it that these murdered men are always Republicans? Why is it that when the edict goes forth, and the man dies he is never a Democrat? Let the Democrats of the county answer. A few weeks ago we stated that placards had been posted, warning Republicans to leave the county, and we were laughed at by the Democrats of the State who called it a canard. Does this look like it? No, it looks rather, as if it was death for a man to live in Jones County and express Republican principles boldly and openly. No man will say Mr. Shepard was a bad man. He worked hard and was a good citizen, and he has been murdered by a band of men who have not the fear nor the love of the law before their eyes. A band which if the people of the county do not suppress and drive them from their midst the government should take the strongest measures in its power to destroy.

[LATER.]

Information received late yesterday afternoon from Jones County is to the effect that two of the murderers have been captured, and afterwards escaped, but not till they had been identified by their captors.

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Smith, Caswell Askew, John Stanley, Fred Taylor and ——— Gilbert, and other citizens all white men, together with a detachment of the late Col. Shepard's militia, started Monday night in pursuit of the murderers, and captured two white men, old residents of the county with faces blackened. Their names are Frank Nobles and John Ballard. While returning to Trenton, and when within a mile of the village the prisoners sprang from their guards and though they were fired at they made their escape. This report is corroberted by white men, citizens of Jones County. As further details of the affair come to our notice we shall publish them.—Newbern Times.

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY.—We have received the annual catalogue of the Washington University, Baltimore, with its announcement for the session of 1869-70. Among the list of students and graduates at the last session, we notice the names of many from Virginia and North Carolina, and other Southern States, showing that the Institution is liberally patronized from this section of our country.

There are few Medical Colleges in the country, that possess greater advantages for the student than Washington University. Its Faculty is composed of men eminent in the profession—all of whom are Southern independence. The clinical advantages are excellent, and attached to the University is a large Hospital to which the student always has free access.—Petersburg Index.

EFFECT OF THE ECLIPSE.—We are told that an entire neighborhood in Mercer county came near being frightened out of their wits by the recent eclipse. They were busy at work in the field and, as they were not a newspaper reading community knew nothing of what was going to take place. They gazed eagerly up on the darkening face of the sun, until convinced that time was up and the end of all things was drawing nigh, when they abandoned the horse and the waggon, the plow and the hoe. They sought their bibles and began to pray as they momentarily expected Gabriel to sound the last trump.—Bristol News.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE GREAT MEDICAL MISTAKE

Of former days was an utter neglect of sanitary precautions. No efficient means were adopted for the prevention of sickness.—Sewerage was unknown in cities; drainage was rarely attempted in the country. Heaps of offal were left to rot in the public streets, and domestic cleanliness, the great antidote to febrile diseases, was sadly neglected. It is not so now. Wise laws, philanthropic institutions, and a vigilant sanitary police, have, to a great extent, remedied the evil. Nor is this all. PREVENTIVE MEDICATION has helped materially to lessen the rates of mortality—It is not too much to say that TENS OF THOUSANDS escape sickness in unhealthy seasons in consequence of having INVIGORATED THEIR SYSTEMS IN ADVANCE by a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This pure and powerful vegetable tonic and alterative comprises the extracts and essences of a variety of roots and herbs, renowned for their strengthening, soothing, vitalizing and purifying properties. These medicinal agents are incorporated with a spirit absolutely free from the acrid poison which defiles, more or less, all the liquors of commerce, and their effect is diffused through the whole frame by this active, yet harmless stimulant. The result is such a condition of the system as renders it all but impervious to the exterior causes of disease, such as damp fog, sudden alternations of temperature, &c. Strength and the perfect regularity of all the functions of the body, are the best safe guards against atmospheric poison and the effects of unwholesome water, and HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are the best strengthening and regulating medicine at present known. For dyspepsia and biliousness they are a SPECIFIC ABSOLUTE.

A FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound; and, while it is a most efficient remedy for pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine, even in the most unskillful hands. For Summer Complaint, or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has, without doubt, been more successful in curing the various kinds of Cholera than any other known remedy, or the most skillful physician. In India, Africa and China, where this dreadful disease is more or less prevalent, the Pain Killer is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates, a sure remedy.

THE PAIN KILLER.—We have known the high character of this medicine, and that it is used with great success and satisfaction in our very best families. It is the favorite medicine of our missionaries in heathen lands, where they use it more than all else together for the diseases that abound in those warm climates. It should be kept in every house, and be in readiness for sudden attacks of sickness.—Christian Press.

Almost every day we hear many persons complaining of headache, loss of appetite, and that they are not fit to do anything, &c. Many is the day that we have felt so ourselves, and in fact have gone to bed and imagined ourselves sick, but for the life of us could not tell what was the matter. One day while thus complaining, a friend said to us, "Why don't you try PLANTATION BITTERS? they are really a good thing and will make you feel like a new man." Upon his recommendation we purchased a bottle, and took them according to the directions. They seemed to go right to the spot, and gave us immediate relief. Ever since we have taken every opportunity to recommend them.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

THE KIDNEYS.—THE KIDNEYS ARE TWO in number, situated at the upper part of the loins, surrounded by fat and consisting of three parts, viz.: the anterior, the Interior and the Exterior.

The anterior absorbs. Anterior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as receptacles to the urine and convey it to the exterior. The exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tube, and called the Ureter. The ureters are connected with the bladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues, divided into parts viz: the Upper, the Lower, the Nervous, and the Mucous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability; others urinate without the ability to retain. This frequently occurs in children.

To cure these affections, we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected, Gravel or Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be made aware, that however slight may be the attack, it is sure to affect the bodily health and mental powers as our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

GOUT, OR RHEUMATISM.—Pain occurring in the loins is indicative of the above diseases. They occur in persons disposed to acid stomach and chalky concretions.

THE GRAVEL.—The gravel ensues from neglect or improper treatment of the kidneys—These organs being weak, the water is not expelled from the bladder, but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish, and sediment forms. It is from this deposit that the stone is formed, and gravel ensues.

DROPSY is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names according to the parts affected, viz.: when generally diffused over the body, it is called Anasarca; when of the abdomen, Ascites; when TREATMENT.—Helmbold's highly concentrated compound Extract Buchu is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder, kidneys, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatism, and gouty affections. Under this head we have arranged Dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing water, scanty secretion, or small and frequent discharges of water; Strangury, or stopping of water; Hematuria, or bloody urine; Gout and Rheumatism of the kidneys, without any change in quantity, but increase of color, or dark water. It was always highly recommended by the late Dr. Physick, in these affections.

This medicine increases the power of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy exercise, by which the watery, or calcareous, deportions, and all unnatural enlargements, as well as pain and inflammation, are reduced, and it is taken by men, women, and children. Directions for use and diet accompany.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Feb. 25, 1867.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist:

DEAR SIR—I have been a sufferer, for upward of twenty years, with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medical preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted with my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubebs, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.—From the first bottle I was as onished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks, was able to walk out. I feel much like writing you a full statement of my case at that time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of greater value to you, and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months.

I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.

Your Column

J B WHITAKER, Jr., Reporter.

[redacted]

☞ Mr. J. L. Pennington, formerly of this State, and a long time editor in Newbern, Goldsboro' and Raleigh, has, we are pleased to see, been elected President of the Eafola and Opelika Railroad Company, in Alabama.

A NEW PAPER.—We have received a copy of a new Republican paper, printed in Greensboro,' in this State, by Joseph H. Fetzer.—The title of the paper is "Republican Gazette," and appears weekly. The printing is well executed, and the matter good. Terms $1,50 per year.

TAXES.—In another column of this day's NEWS will be found a call by Sheriff Rhodes upon the citizens of Wayne to pay their taxes for the year 1869. As money is greatly needed in every department of our government, it will be his imperative duty to collect without delay. We therefore advise our people to settle at once.

HOME AGAIN.—It will be gratifying news to our farmers to learn that Mr. Albert Day, who represents the well known house of Dibble, Worth & Co, of New York, has returned to Goldsboro', where he will be pleased to see his old friends and former patrons. The experience of hundreds, in this and adjoining counties, who have transacted business with these gentlemen, justify us in commending them to the public patronage, as gentlemen of high character and integrity—liberal, accommodating and entirely reliable. A firm better established or more favorably known does not exist in the city. To such of our friends as have had business transactions with Mr. Day, it is useless for us to commend him. To all others we say give him a trial. Read advertisement in NEWS to-day.

LAST CALL.—The drawing of the Real and Personal Estate Agency comes off in Raleigh, on Saturday next. Very valuable property will be drawn, a description of which will be found on our first page. Only a few tickets remain unsold at this Agency. All unsold will be returned on Fridry. If you want a fortune for Two Dollars, call at this office before ten o'clock of that day, and buy a ticket.

RED HOT.—The excessive heat of Sunday will not be forgotten for many a day. In the coolest places in Goldsboro' the thermometer ranged from 100 to 109. The mercury stood in various places as follows: In Richmond, 101 degrees in the shade. In Baltimore the thermometer stood, according to location, at 1 o'clock from 91 all the way to 96 degrees in the shade. At Washington city the highest degree reached in the shade was 101, being the same degree attained at Richmond. The telegraph reported a number of cases of sunstroke in various localities.

TO SHAVE OR NOT TO SHAVE.—How old the custom of shaving is, and how ancient the honourable guild of the barbers, we are unable to determine. Certain it is that the razor is a very ancient institution. Whether Adam wore a moustache and goatee, or only English mutton whiskers has long been a mooted point. Some of the "old masters" clearly were of the former opinion, as they have painted him looking sweetly on our eider mother from behind an exquisite auburn moustache and imperial. Others again give him a smooth-faced chin, thus insinuating that barbers, like tailors and mantuamakers, were born of Satan; and but for the wiles of that gentleman would have had no place in history.

The beard among most of the ancient nations was deemed an ornament—the honoured emblem of manly dignity; and it is only in modern times that smooth-facedness has come into fashion. We notice a controversy going on at this time in some of the religious papers in regard to the advantage or injuriousness of shaving. "Shaving is a violation of nature's law," quoth one. "Yes," says another, "and so is hair cutting, and the paring of the finger nails."—There is "the loss of time, and immediate suffering," urged by the former party, and also "the weakening of the eyesight," caused by the irritation and exposure of the facial nerves by frequent shaving. That the use of the razor affects the nerves, is proved by the involuntary sneezing of some when the chin, below the lip is shaved, and by tears coming into the eyes of others, when applying the razor to certain parts of the face. A writer in the New York Christian Intelligencer says that he knows men, who, since casting aside the razor, have also been able to lay aside their glasses, with strength of sight renewed. Other alleged penalties of shaving are throat and bronchial affections, says this writer, speaking of himself:

"An irritation of the throat and bronchial tubes, attended by a hacking cough for years, gradually passed away when I ceased to shave. A few years since an inhaler was invented, and used by many clergymen as a preventive of bronchial affections, consisting of a fine wire-gauze to be worn over the mouth in cold weather, through which the breath was drawn. It was simply an artificial moustache. Nature has provided a far better protection by which the air is sifted and tempered before it enters the lungs. Is man wiser than his Maker? Shall man say the beard is superfluous, unnecessary, an incumberance and disfigurement? That the Creator caused it to grow for man's tribulation and discipline? Of what use are the eyebrows? Why not shave them? Especially as some are very shaggy.—Other reasons of great weight might be given, but we forbear to occupy your space. Yet so strong are our convictions in this matter, after years of experience and observation, that our counsel to young men has been, and is, "touch not the razor." My counsel to my ministerial brethren in private has been, and now publicly is, touch not the razor to your face. If you would preserve your eyesight, your voice and health, and avoid suffering, follow the teachings of nature's laws, which are God's laws, in this as other things, and neither irritate nor expose what nature unceasingly strives to preserve and protect."

ATTENTION, BANKRUPTS.—Those who have petitioned for bankruptcy labor under a delusion, if they think they can go into business before receiving their final discharge, consequently those who have not taken this precaution had better do so at once, or they will perhaps find themselves in a bad predicament with the "limbs of the law."

A Boston spinster, at a recent woman's rights convention, said she did not care about female suffrage unless it carried with it the right to make proposals of marriage. A good Union woman, that.

GROCERIES, &c.—We have before called attention to the card of our clever friends, Messrs. Collier, Fulghum & Co., who keep well supplied with everything choice and fresh in the grocery line. They have also on hand, a full stock of ties and bagging, which they are enabled through superior facilities to dispose of at the lowest prices. They will be found in the store under the NEWS printing establishment, and all desirous of purchasing will find it a pleasure to give them their patronage.

☞ The Post Office Department has made Goldsboro' a Money Order Office, for Switzerland, to go into effect on the 1st of September next. This will be of great service to the immigrants from that country, who have settled in this vicinity.

The "unpleasantness" between Gen. J. C. Abbott and Major J. A. Englehard, of the Post and Journal, Wilmington, has been accommodated and settled, without a resort to the duello, by the interference of their respective friends. Each gentleman makes a retraction, after a challenge had been sent by the Major. This was a proper course to pursue.

FIRE IN SALISBURY.—We learn from the Examiner that on last Sunday night, about 1 o'clock, the stables attached to the Mansion House, were fired by an incendiary and entirely consumed, together with an adjacent barn. The fire was applied to hay in the loft. A valuable horse belonging to the Express Company, and a good horse, belonging to a colored man, were burnt to death. The Hotel and adjoining houses had a narrow escape and were saved only by the stillness of the night.

Washington C. Kerr, Esq., State Geologist, was appointed and accepted the appointment, to deliver the Annual Address at the approaching State Fair.

A WONDERFUL ACRE OF COTTON.—The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph learns from a gentleman from Eufaula, that the stalks, bolls and squares in the brag acre of cotton belonging to Major L. F. Johnston, near Eufaula, had been counted within the last day or two, and that by a close mathematical calculation, the acre will yield [illegible] eight, 450 pound bales of cotton.—Old and experienced planters who were present and examined the cotton stalks, said that the acre would certainly yield five bales, and with favorable weather and close picking seven bales would probably be obtained. This is a most fabulous sounding statement, but we are assured that it is true.

THE Tennessee papers certainly excell in telling hard tales. The latest is a story in a Nashville paper about a young man who was killed with a sewing-needle by a young lady, his betrothed, whom he was trying to kiss. The account is graphic and circumstantial. It appears that the young lover went to see his sweetheart and found her sewing.—He took a seat beside her, and after some conversation of a lover like kind he attempted to draw her up to him to kiss her, but suddenly while holding her in his arms he fell back insensible. The paper says it was found that the needle with which the girl was sewing and had stuck into the stuff she was sewing, had pierced the heart of the young man, and he died in a little while afterwards.—The girl, of course, is described as being overcome with grief when she saw what had happened and frantically tried to kill herself.

If the story is true it is a warning to young men not kiss girls——when they are busy with their sewing.

A leading and attractive feature at the University at the term which bes gun August 18th, will be the Lectures by the faculty and other distinguished gentlemen. The practical lectures on the theory and practice of teaching, will be of untold value to those intending to enter the profession. The State needs ten thousand school masters to fill places in the free schools soon to be established. These schools will in turn supply students for higher grades of schools, and popular education will rapidly advance in this State. Ambitious young men, dependent upon their own exertions can find no better way in which to commence lives of usefulness than as teachers. The course marked out at the University gives unsurpassed facilities for these young men to prepare themselves, and at the same time furnishes a complete course to the University student.—Standard.

Why should caricatures be discountenanced? Because they are too fond of making wry faces.

Universal Suffrage and Universal Amnesty.

From the Raleigh Standard.

The telegraph announces that President Grant is dissatisfied with the elections in Virginia and Tennessee. But a short time ago he was satisfied with them. What is the meaning of this sudden change? No one can tell.

We do not believe that President Grant has changed. We believe all these reports are manufactured by certain politicians in Washington who are endeavoring to force the President to adopt measures he dislikes, and to declare for principles to which he is opposed.

We do not like the present indications of the policy of the so-called managing men at Washington. We infinitely prefer the principles of President Grant to the principles of any of those who seek to control him.

We do not like a policy whose effect is to compel General Grant to shoulder defeats which are not his.

The Walker party in Virginia and the Senter party in Tennessee proclaim that they are Republicans.—Each announced in the early part of the campaign that it supported the policy of General Grant. What more could be asked? What do the politicians wish? We have yet to learn of any overt act committed by either party. We have yet to learn that their actions have not been in accordance with their professions. Why, then, should the Republican party wish to drive from it men who seek to join it in good faith?

Such a course is not only unjust to the people, but is political madness. It can but weaken the administration and strengthen the enemy. Such tactics may be creditable to those who wish to win martyrdom, but not to those who wish to win success.

We wish to see the Republican party founded upon broad national principles. We do not wish to see it controlled by narrow prejudices or sectional hatred. If such views as have of late obtained in Washington prevail, the result cannot but be to the injury of the Republican party South. We are Republicans, not Radicals or Conservatives.

The Southern fire-eaters killed the Northern Democracy by adopting ultra grounds which the party in the opposite section could not support.—Secession was the result.

Let the party in the North remember the example and take warning.

There are no truer Republicans in the Union than those of the South.—They have been tried by fire. They have suffered everything for their devotion to the party, but they have been true as tried steel.

All they ask is:

Give us a national platform upon which to stand [illegible] abortion which must result in injury to the party and to the country.

Give us a liberal platform or we shall make one ourselves, for we are not willing to endorse measures which proscribe our fellow-citizens. The war is past. Peace reigns unquestioned. Then do away with test-oaths, proscription and other measures which belong to a time of war.

Our party is the NATIONAL Republican party—not in name, but in deed. Let it never be brought down from its high position. Let its motto be Universal Suffrage and Universal Amnesty.

IMPORTANT TO CIGAR DEALERS.—Commissioner Delano has decided that it is illegal to retail cigars from glass cases or glass stands in tobacco stores. They must be sold from the boxes stamped as prescribed by law. The commissioner has also decided that a dealer who has been sold out at a revenue sale, and buys in his stock, and immediately afterwards offers the same goods for sale without placing stamps on them, is liable to punishment under the revenue law.

WEDNESDAY AUG. 25, 1869.

"FATHER, COME HOME."

Music has drawn many a heart back from yielding to a temptation it was on the point of doing, and binds the world together in stronger bonds of brotherhood than anything else of a humanizing tendency. But how much more effective when aided by a little dramatic effect. A London correspondent gives an affecting description of the singing of the pathetic ballad of "Father, Come Home," in one of the London theatres, which left but few dry eyes in the house, and must have nerved to stronger resolutions any present who were in the habit of giving way to the weakness of indulging in intoxicating drinks to excess. This correspondent, describing the scene, says that the lady came in front of the curtain, amid great applause, and commenced: "Father, dear father," &c. Every word was distinct, and she sang the ballad with great feeling. In order, however, to describe the scene which followed each verse, it is necessary to give little Mary's song:

"Father, dear father, come home with me now,
The clock in the steeple strikes one!
You promised, dear father, that you would come home,
As soon as your day's work was done.
Our fire has gone out—our house is all dark,
And mother's been watching since tea,
With poor little Benny sick in her arms,
And no one to help her but me.
Come home, come home, come home,
Please, father, dear father, come home."

At the conclusion of the last line, the drop-scene drew up, disclosing the father sitting at the door of a public house, in a drunken, bemuddled state, with pipe and pot before him. Little Mary was trying to drag him from his seat, at the same time pointing to a curtain behind, and she took up the refrain from the lady and touchingly sang, "Come home," &c.

The other curtain was now drawn aside, disclosing a wretched room, with the poor mother sitting on the ground with a sickly-looking boy in her lap, and in the act of feeding him with a spoon. Simultaneously with the drawing of the curtain, the light was brought to bear upon the tableaux giving them a truly startling effect. After a moment or two, the act-drop came down, and the lady proceeded:

"Father, dear father, come home withme now,
The clock in the steeple strikes two:
The night has grown colder, and Benny is worse,
But he has been calling for you.
Indeed he is worse, mother says he will die,
Perhaps before morning shall dawn,
And this is the message she sent me to bring—
Come quickly or he will be gone.
Come home, come home, come home.
Please, father, dear father, come home."

The act-drop rises again, and now the child has hold of the pewter pot, trying to take it from the drunken parent, and as she continues the last two lines, "Come home," &c., the other curtain is drawn aside, and we next see the child stretched out in its mother's lap, and it just raises its little head and falls back with a gasp. With the lime light reflecting strongly upon it, there was a reality about the whole, terrible to view. Sobs were heard from all parts of the hall, coming from the female part of the audience, while tears trickled down many a male cheek. Even the lady who sang the song was affected and could scarcely proceed with the third verse:

"Father, dear father, come home with me now,
The clock in the steeple strikes three!
The house is so lonely, the hours are so long,
For poor weeping mother and me.
Yes, we are alone—poor Benny is dead,
And gone with the angels of light!
And these are the very last words that he said—
'I want to kiss papa—good night!'
Come home, come home, come home,
Please, father, dear father, come home."

Again the drop rose, and displayed little Mary on her knees appealing to her father, who, with pot elevated, is in the act of striking her with it, when she sings, "Come home," and then the back curtain draws aside, showing a mother praying over a child's coffin. But now the sobs break out more freely, and two females are carried out fainting. The scene was most truly harrowing.

An additional verse was sung about "poor Benny" being with the angels above. The drop rose, the father, sober now, is weeping over the coffin with little Mary on his knees, singing, 'Home, home, father's come home'!" At this minute the curtain is drawn aside, and little Benny is suspended over the coffin with wings, smiling down on them and pointing upward. The father falls forward upon his face, the act-drop descends, and for a minute all is hushed save the sobs of the audience.—Household Magazine.

"My son," said an old man, "be ware of prejudices: They are like rats, and men's minds are like traps; prejudices get in easily, but it is doubtful if they ever get out."

After rolling all night in your berth at sea, till you are miserably sick, it is irritating to have a steward open the door in the morning, and ask if you will have a fresh roll for breakfast.

Josh Billings says. "Thare aint ennything nu under the sun" The old feller in Connekticut who carried the same jack-knife for 43 years, and wore out 9 nu handles, and 12 setts ov blades, sez so.

"Shall I help you to some of the tomatusses?" inquired a young exquisite of a venerable physician as he sat opposite to him at one of our hotel tables. "No, sir, I thank you," replied the learned savant, "but I will trouble you for some of the potatusses, if you please."

Half Peas.—There was a knot of sea-captains in a store at Honolulu, the keeper of which had just bought a barrel of black pepper. Old Captain ——, of Salem, came in and seeing the pepper took up a handful of it.

"What did you buy such stuff as that for?" said he to the storekeeper, "it's half peas."

"Peas!" replied the storekeeper, "there isn't a pea in it.

Taking up a handful as he spoke he appealed to the company. They all looked at it, and plunged their hands into the barrel, and bit a kernel or so, and then gave it as their universal opinion that there wasn't a pea in it.

"I tell you there is," said the old captain, again scooping up a handful, "and I'll bet a dollar on it."

The old Boston argument all over the world. They took him up.

"Well," said he, "spell that," pointing to the word "Peep-peer," painted on the side of the barrel.—"If it isn't half p's then I'm no judge that's all." The bet was paid.

Good Joke.—Recently a chap from the back country called into the telegraph office at Mamaroneck and requested the operator to send to Jersey city for a "yaller dog" which he wanted to sell right off. He ins[illegible] be there! The operator, somewhat of a wag replied, in two hours, call again. Meantime a small yellow cur was procured and tied to the wire inside of the office and at the appointed time country called and asked if his dog had come. I will look and see replied the operator, so stepping into the office closely followed by the fellow, he stepped up to the machine, hit the dog a kick, "ki, hi! ki, hi!" yelled the dog.—The man took the dog, remarking that "telegrafts" were wonderful things. He also observed that the dog was smaller and darker than he used to be, all of which was satisfactorily explained by showing him that the great speed in transportation had reduced the size of the animal while the chemicals used served to darken the color, so the fellow went on his way rejoicing.

Sufferers from this dreadful and troublesome complaint, and their numbers are counted by thousands, and daily increasing, can confidently rely upon this Salve as the great medicine that will certainly cure them, having never known it to fail in a single instance

Below we give for the benefit of those suffering from Piles, a few Testimonials from those who have suffered, and been completely cured by the use of Congleton's Vegetable Salve:

TESTIMONIALS;

Williamston, Martin Co., February 22nd, 1869.

Mr. Jno. R. Congleton, Raleigh, N. C.

Dear Sir:—For the last eight or ten years I have been exceedingly troubled with a painful and distressing case of the Piles. Hearing "Congleton's Vegetable Salve" spoken so highly of as the great cure for Piles, I purchased in March, 1868, while in Washington, N. C, one box, and was soon relieved, and by the time I had used the contents of the box, I was perfectly well, and have never had any return since. I consider myself entirely and permanently cured. I give this for the benefit of those who may be troubled with the same disease, believing thereby that I will be benefiting them, and recommending to them a most valuable medicine and worthy of great praise.

I have also used the salve for Sore Throat and find it the best medicine I ever had in my family for that complaint.

Respectfully yours
JAS H ELLISON.

☞ THE MOST EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF PILES ON RECORD ☜

Wake County, N. C, Feb. 11, 1866

Mr. Congleton—Dear Sir:—It is with pleasure that I herein certify to the efficacy of your Vegetable Salve, in the cure of Piles. I have been afflicted with said disease some twenty five years, more or less. I have tried various remedies, but found no cure until I was advised by a friend in Raleigh to try your Salve, which I have done, and am at present perfectly well. I have used only one box, which I think, it judiciously used, will cure any case like mine.

I would advise all afflicted with said disease to go and do likewise

Yours respectfully.
HENRY UTLEY.

TESTIMONIALS:

Raleigh N. C, Jan 16, 1869.

Mr Congleton:—On the 14th inst., I came to town with considerable pain and swelling in my right knee I got a bottle of the "American Rheumatic Liniment" and applied it to my knee, which was greatly relieved and assuaged in ten hours. I then applied it again and by night was so far cured as to forget to apply the remedy; this pain had resisted the application of Liquid Opodeldoc for a week without any perceptible improvement, causing a limp in my walk at sometime and fears of inability to walk at all.

Respectfully,
THOS BAILY,
Book Agent, Dayton N. C.

Wake County, N. C., Feb. 24th, 1869.

Mr. Congleton:—Dear Sir: My little son was for four months suffering with pains in his legs and weekness in his knees so he scarcely could get about and walked with great difficulty. I was fearful that he would lose the use of his legs entirely, which gave me a great deal of trouble and anxiety, hearing of the American Rheumatic Liniment, I purchased one bottle and commenced using it, and by the time I had used half of the bottle, my son was greatly relieved and could walk very well, and after using the whole bottle, he is now perfectly well, with many thanks to you and praises for the "American Rheumatic Liniment" I am yours, &c.,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, designed to be the most effectual Alterative that can be made. It is [redacted] class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.
